

Due to circumstances beyond our control Jessica Adams is unable to record Psychic Astrology Weekly this week, however here is the script for February 23 – March 1, 2009

Hi this is Jessica. Welcome to Psychic Astrology Weekly for Monday February 23 through Sunday March 1.

First, what did the stars say recently – and did astrology manage to predict tomorrow's headlines, today?

This is what you heard if you listened to Psychic Astrology Weekly for Monday February 16 through 22, or read The Astrologer's Diary online at jessicaadams.com.

“When Mars meets Jupiter, the God of War meets the God of Opportunity. Any global dispute which flares up near Tuesday February 16th is likely to run all year and take on the proportions of a soap opera, or an opera. Aquarians will find it hard to resist the opportunity to become (more) famous or to reveal an aspect of their personalities we've so far missed. On the high-profile water-bearer list, we can count Oprah Winfrey, Paris Hilton, Jennifer Aniston, Robbie Williams and Sarah Palin; watch their headlines this week. This is also likely to be an explosive time for online social networks like MySpace and Facebook. Expect more of the same, mass expansion, and perhaps the odd tussle over territories as well. Other 'group' phenomena like the Big Brother franchise are also likely to hit the point of no return. Are you for or against?”

So what happened?

The BBC reported an attack on a Darfur group on Wednesday -

“Sudan's military has denied accusations that it attacked a Darfur rebel group, a day after the two sides signed a goodwill agreement”

It was also a headline grabbing week for Aquarians like Oprah Winfrey, Robbie Williams and Jennifer Aniston thanks partly to The Brit Awards and partly to The Oscars – and New York Fashion Week. Palin's daughter also brought her into the spotlight again.

On Wednesday February 18 the BBC reported that Facebook had withdrawn its data changes after users complained about new terms of service. One day later the BBC also reported that online networking in general may harm your health, according to expert, Dr Aric Sigman. And The Guardian posed the question: Can Twitter be bad for you?

The Guardian also reported that terminally ill Big Brother star Jade Goody. Goody had told the News of the World "I've lived my whole adult life talking about my life. The only difference is that I'm talking about my death now. It's OK. I've lived in front of the cameras. And maybe I'll die in front of them.

Here's another timely forecast, but this time taken from 'True Predictions from 2009 and New Predictions for 2009', a feature filed back in November last year, at jessicaadams.com.

"It may be hard to stop people floating on champagne and cash bubbles near February 17 and 23, and again near March 1st, 3rd, 5th and 8th. This is a most unusual period when almost anything could happen; the world's most outrageous multi-billion dollar mergers; the creation of new notes or coins; people forming their own banks – the sky is the limit.'

The Times reported on February 19, that 'The Bank of England asks Alistair Darling for go-ahead to print money. It reported that the radical move could happen in as little as two weeks.

Now here are your stars for the week ahead.

ARIES – A mother-daughter relationship affects a work connection for you now.

TAURUS – Take more steps towards success on Monday and Tuesday.

GEMINI – You will confirm a trip or move by June after developments by Tuesday.

CANCER – Forget the downturn. There is a major opportunity to take further.

LEO – That all important partner from any stage of your life holds answers.

VIRGO – Work and health get another green light if you're prepared to try.

LIBRA – The next generation is still your key to all the available luck.

SCORPIO – A fresh start with the next generation begins around Tuesday.

SAGITTARIUS – You will move, decorate, reshuffle flatmates or change the family.

CAPRICORN – The smart money is on a smart cash answer near Monday.

AQUARIUS – Your personal financial year begins here, around Tuesday.

PISCES – Your relaunch is guaranteed with a new mission opening up.

Now, here is the astrological world weather for this week, February 23 through March 1st, taken from The Astrologer's Diary:

English soil holds the kind of wealth that has not been tapped for 12 years - be it buried treasure, unexplored real estate or amazing agricultural possibilities. The time has also come for Liza Minnelli to focus on Judy Garland again – privately or publicly. Australia will take a new economic path (at last) from Tuesday. Scotland's sports teams, rock bands, political parties and other groups will hog headlines and take the country in a new direction.

The Astrologer's Diary for the week of February 23 through March 1 was written on February 18. That wraps it up for Psychic Astrology Weekly for now. Are you a Sagittarian, a Capricorn, an Aquarian or a Piscean? You can order your exclusive year-ahead podcast from me, right now. It begins on your birthday and takes you through the next 12 months. Please visit www.LifestylePodNetwork.com

